

2017 BUSINESS 101

Vision

- Taught at the Graduate School-level, Business 101 prepares you for the competitive civilian business world. In Business 101 you will learn all about civilian business... its unique language, the modern business culture, your new challenges and civilian business expectations.

Mission

- Business 101 gives you the insights and tools used in civilian business. This is where you will learn the key procedures of business and the different types of organizations. You will also be exposed to contemporary business expectations, including business methods, metrics and new practices.

Taught By Business Executives --- At No Cost

- Business 101 is organized and taught by senior business executives who are volunteering their time in appreciation for your valuable service to our country. It is sponsored by the Marine Executive Association and Camp Pendleton's Personal and Professional Development Branch.
