MARINE AND FAMILY PROGRAMS
CAMP PENDLETON/BARSTOW

MARINE AND FAMILY PROGRAMS (M&FP) OVERVIEW

Overview

- Four Branches and a Headquarters
- Organizational Chart (M&FP)
- Located in various areas across the installation

Goal and Intent

- Be flexible, adaptive, and ready to respond mindset
- Being where the unit Commander needs us to be when needed
- Cross Organizational Collaboration (no wrong door)
- Anticipate needs and support opportunities

To provide a collaborative, forward leaning and engaged system of support to the Marines, Sailors and their families of Camp Pendleton across a full continuum of family readiness, personal and professional development, family care, and behavioral health needs while providing capabilities to operational commanders in order to increase individual and unit readiness

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH BRANCH

Responsible for:

- Family Advocacy Program (FAP)
- New Parent Support Program (NPSP)
- Substance Abuse Counseling Center (SACC)
- Community Counseling Center (CCC)
- Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR)

Behavioral Health augments force readiness by aiding Commanders' efforts to prevent negative behaviors and to resolve problems before they impact Marines, Sailors, and Families. Programs reduce deployment stressors, improve acclimation to the military lifestyle, and increase family functioning during separations. The strengths-based approach builds resiliency and promotes early recognition and prevention of stress injuries in the Marine Corps, and the programs are directly related to the mission, human resource development, and unit goals. We continue the tradition of "taking care of our own."
