RECREATIONAL VEHICLE STORAGE

Storage of joint ownership property is prohibited unless all joint owners are authorized patrons.

Your vehicle can only be stored or removed by you or someone that is your Power of Attorney.

Vehicle registration and insurance must remain active. The vehicle must remain legally operational within the state of California while in storage. The vehicle cannot be registered as non-operational.

We do not store un-registered or registered 'project type' RVs, buses, racing, off-road only cars trucks or motorcycles

The vehicle must be maintained while in storage. Windows cannot be broken, tires cannot be flat, body-panels and engine hoods cannot be missing.

All vehicles are to be stored sitting on their tires - You are not allowed to put your vehicle on blocks.

Open cargo trailers cannot be stored with anything on top of them. Nothing can be stored on top or on the outside of enclosed cargo trailers, RVs, or boats.

Nothing can be left on the ground with in the space. Items left on the ground will be picked up and treated as lost & found. If unclaimed, they will be discarded after 14 days. We do not take responsibility for contacting patrons regarding lost & found items.

Only one item allowed per space.

We do not store semi-truck trailers.

Storage agreement paperwork will be initiated/completed only when the vehicle is stored. Due to peak storage times allow 30 mins. to store your vehicle.

If the vehicle is going to be covered, extra tie downs are necessary to make sure it stays on. We do not take responsibility for car covers.

Vehicle maintenance is not allowed in the storage lots.
